AFRICA'S RACE
TO MEET THE MILLENNIUM
DEVELOPMENT GOALS

International investment in health, education and agriculture is key to progress.

With less than 1000 days until the deadline for the Millennium Development Goals to tackle global poverty, how are countries in sub-Saharan Africa doing?

ONE’s 2010 DATA Report reveals that, on average, COUNTRIES THAT HAVE INVESTED MORE OF THEIR NATIONAL BUDGETS IN

Health Agriculture Education

ARE ALSO ON TRACK TO HIT MORE OF THEIR MILLENNIUM DEVELOPMENT GOAL TARGETS

THE TRAILBLAZERS

BURKINA FASO ETHIOPIA GANA

EXTREME POVERTY

10% - 13% of a nation’s GDP

8% - 9% of a nation’s GDP

10% - 15% of a nation’s GDP

IMPROVEMENTS IN POVERTY ALLOCATION

1% increase in the MDG budget allocation (%)

3% increase in the MDG budget allocation (%)

2% increase in the MDG budget allocation (%)

ONE.ORG/DATA

For more data and to see how governments from around the world are doing, download the full report from ONE.org/datal